

Feeney, Radio Star,
in Lad, Dad Program
Wednesday at Temple

supper and evening of fun for "Dad and Dad" is planned for the Temple Brotherhood meeting on Wednesday evening, April 10, at Temple. According to President Floyd R. Beitman, this is the first meeting of its kind for the Brotherhood, and elaborate arrangements have been made to make it a most enjoyable evening for the members and for their guests.

The evening will start with a service at 6:15. There will be no charge either to the members or their sons; all will be guests of the Brotherhood.

Following the supper, half an hour of entertainment will be provided by Uncle Charley Dice, radio entertainer extraordinary.

In addition to Mr. Dice, Al Feeney, Marion county sheriff, will deliver a short talk. Mr. Feeney, former Notre Dame football player, for many years has been a prominent figure in the world of sports.

Following Mr. Feeney's talk, he will present each of the boys with a League baseball, a gift from the Brotherhood.

A special program committee consisting of Herbert Falender, Mr. A. Efrogmson and Burton B. Feeney has made all arrangements for this meeting, and a record crowd is expected to attend.

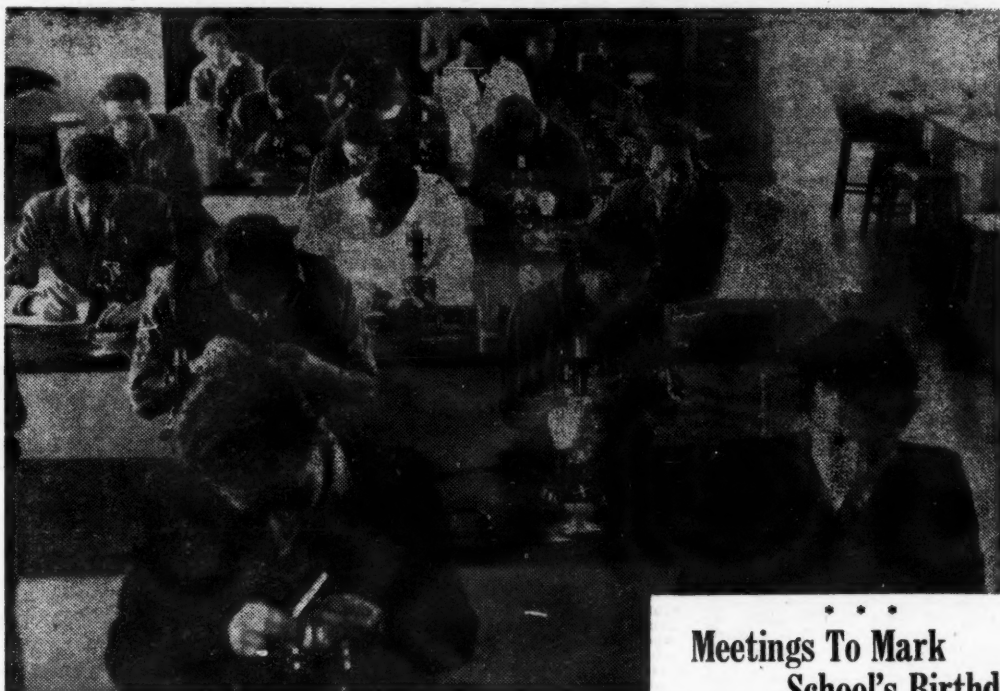

It will be necessary for the committee to know the attendance so proper preparations may be made. No reservations will be accepted after Monday noon, April 8. To make reservations, call Herbert Falender, Riley 6848.

Alumni To Lead
Beth El Services

Alumni Sabbath will be observed Friday at Beth El. Participation in the program will be representatives of the past six confirmation classes, including Robert Falender, who will speak on "Continuation in Retrospect"; Irving Kosky, who will speak on, "Defining Jewish Cultural and Spiritual Loyalties"; Charlotte Feeney, on "Youth Leaders from Beth El"; Alberta Shalansky, on "Beth El Youth at College"; Sylvia Feeney, on "Our Part in Youth Work"; William Borman, on "Finishing and Unfinished Work." One good meal will be served after the services.

Samuel Says
Jews Won't Protest

Jewish Telegraphic Agency
LONDON—Newly returned from the East of the Eastern Mediterranean, Viscount Samuel, Liberal peer and former Palestine High Commissioner declared in a radio broadcast that there was "vehement opposition" in Palestine to the new sale restrictions, but the new restrictions would probably be settled by constitutional means as the Jews are the last to embarrass the British Empire in its struggle.

Hebrew University Celebrates Fifteenth Anniversary

A class in botanical research at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, which observed its fifteenth anniversary April 1, is shown above. The enrollment at the school has now passed the 1,000 mark, and students come from every corner of the globe, the majority from Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Considerable research at Hebrew University is directed toward the solution of the agricultural, health and industrial problems of Palestine.

Junior Hadassah To Hear Congress Story

Junior Hadassah's participation in the American Youth Congress will be discussed by Hannah Leah Miller at a Junior Hadassah meeting at 8:00 p. m., Wednesday, April 10, at Kirshbaum Center. This is the program that was presented at the National Convention at Baltimore which Miss Miller attended.

Also included on the program is a report by Bess Draizer on the regional conference at Joliet, Ill., April 6 and 7, which she will attend as a delegate.

A nominating committee will be chosen and the Mother's Day affair discussed at the meeting.

EASTERN STAR MEETING

Monument Chapter O. E. S. will meet at 7:45, Monday, April 8, at the Masonic Temple, Worthy Matron Goldie Freeman, who will preside, announced this week.

S. A. M. Plans Dance,
Banquet at Antlers

A State Dance in honor of the new initiates will be given by the alumni of the Purdue and Indiana Chapters of the Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity, at 9:00 P. M., Saturday, April 13, in the Gold Room of the Antlers Hotel. Sid Schechter will be chairman of the dance and Alvin Cohen, Meyer Efrogmson and Bob Greenberg will be co-chairmen. A Stag Banquet will be given preceding the dance, at 6:30 P. M., in the Antlers Hotel.

Mrs. Ben Paller
On Forum Program

"The Life of Henrietta Szold" will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. Ben Paller, at the meeting of the Joint Jewish Cultural Forum at 10:30 A. M., Wednesday, April 10, at Kirshbaum Center. Mrs. Jacob Weiss will preside.

Meetings To Mark School's Birthday

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK—The fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem was observed this week at a meeting in the auditorium of the Society for the Advancement of Judaism. Held under the auspices of the American Alumni of the Hebrew University, the meeting was the first of a series of Hebrew University Day programs being arranged for the month of April by national and local organizations throughout the country.

Founded April 1, 1924, with a student body of 64, a faculty of 30 and only chemistry, microbiology and Jewish study departments, the university now has a student body of 1,110 drawn from all parts of the world; a faculty of 140 members, including renowned scholars exiled from Europe, and a curriculum comparing favorably with that of leading universities.

Anderson Is Host
To Central Lodges
For Affair Sunday

Special
ANDERSON—Nathan Speier Lodge of Anderson will be host to the Lodges of the central group—Fort Wayne, Muncie, Kokomo, Marion, Lafayette and Indianapolis at a group meeting of B'nai Brith lodges here Sunday.

The afternoon session will start at 1:30 and will be held in the Glass room of the Hotel Anderson. Julius Friedman, president, and Andrew Fried, secretary of the State Association, will conduct the program.

The evening banquet will be held at the Grandview Club House with Isidore Feibleman as toastmaster and Rabbi Charles Lesser principal speaker.

Those planning to attend the banquet should contact their local lodge secretary or wire Harry Goldberg at Anderson. Reservations must be made in advance, Julian Glazer, president of the Anderson lodge stated. The lodge is celebrating its tenth anniversary at the affair.

5,000 Visas Idle
As Consuls Ousted

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
PARIS—Ousting of American consular officials from Poland by the Nazi authorities has raised the problem of how to distribute the approximately 5,000 immigration visas available for Poland under the present American quota, expiring at the end of June.

Hardly more than a thousand visas have been issued under the present quota of 6,000, since distribution was halted when the war began. More than 5,000 applicants registered with the American consulate in Warsaw for years could be rescued from Nazi-occupied Poland if they were able to utilize the unissued visas.

Rabbi, Jews Give To Rumanian Fund

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
BUCHAREST—Chief Rabbi Alexander Safran is donating his first month's salary as Chief Rabbi and as Senator to the Rumanian defense fund, he announced in a letter to Senate President Constantine Argentinian, published in the press. Members of the Bucharest Great Synagogue gave a total of 6,650,000 lei to the defense loan, according to the first published list of subscriptions.

Social Action Is Sermon Subject

"Judaism and Social Action" will be Rabbi Maurice Goldblatt's subject for his sermon at services this Friday night. Hosts for the social hour following services include Mr. and Mrs. George E. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Freeman and Mrs. R. W. Greenberg.

New Colony Like Summer Resort

By W. A. FREY

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic—This correspondent, who is secretary of the Dominican Republic Settlement Association, has just returned from Sosua, 26,000-acre tract donated by Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, on which the first organized refugee colonization in the New World is to be started soon. I accompanied Arthur M. Lamport, New York banker, who is visiting here.

Sosua is situated in the North of the island, about 180 miles from the capital. On good roads we reached our destination, in a car placed at Lamport's disposal by Generalissimo Trujillo, in five hours. We passed fruitful landscapes full of tropical fruit, clean cities and sugar estates. A few miles before Puerto Planta we left the main road and took a short cut to Sosua.

Sosua lies on a bay and consists of a group of 17 houses built of wood and concrete. These houses are all in good condition and give a pleasant aspect. Some other houses are near this place; there are altogether about 40 on the tract.

The air was refreshing and we enjoyed a beautiful view of the bay and the sea. A remark was made that we thought we were in an American summer resort.

A small power-station furnishes the houses with electric light, and pump station secures the water from the Sosua river, which enters the sea near the estate. There is a school where a young Dominican lady gives lessons to children between six and 14 years of age. A post office is situated in the center of the settlement, and a military station guards the entrance to the tract.

Frederick Perlstein, director of Sosua, welcomed us and took us out in his car to show us the estate. The tract consists of about 40 square (Continued on page 8)

THINGS HAVE CHANGED

The Duke of Coburg, now in this country to get the American Red Cross to cooperate with the German Red Cross, of which he is the president, was one of Hitler's first big backers, you might like to know. . . . And while carrying on negotiations to get good American dollars into his clutches he's doing quite a bit of collecting on the side, from Nazi groups who are only too happy to contribute to Hitler's funds. . . . There's a racial angle to the willingness of the Dominican Republic to accept refugee immigration from Germany. . . . Because of the high birth rate among the West Indian Negroes, the white masters of the republic welcome any Caucasian immigration. . . . Did you know that Henry Shapiro, United Press correspondent at Moscow, scooped all his colleagues on the Russo-Finnish peace pact? . . . His success was due to his linguistic ability—it seems he's the only American newspaperman in Moscow who can really speak Russian fluently. . . . Sidelight on the new "Aryan" morality: Hitler has instituted a new series of medals for mothers of five or more children, with legions no object.

THE ZIONIST FRONT

Vladimir Jabotinsky is telling his intimates that when he returns to the U. S. from his flying trip to South America he will stay here until he conquers American Jewish opinion. . . . Now that Poland no longer exists, he's planning to make America the center of Revisionist activities. . . . What is happening to the $4,000,000 loan that Dr. Chaim Weizmann projected during his visit here? . . . If it isn't gotten within the next few months it won't be needed at all, because by that time the campaign funds will have raised that much for Palestine. . . . Don't be surprised if the Palestine Pavilion at the New York World's Fair will decide to withdraw from the 1940 season. . . . The World's Fair authorities are showing a deplorable lack of understanding of the tremendous help that this Pavilion was last season in bringing in millions of cash customers. . . . If one considers that the Polish and Czech pavilions represent countries that are no longer on the map, one can see no reason why the matters of etiquette at the fair should take so red-tapish an attitude of the status of the Palestine building among the foreign pavilions.

THIS AND THAT

The Jewish Medical School in New York City is no longer merely a dream. . . . Its opening day has been scheduled for Oct. 1. . . . Hearing of 50,000 divorce cases quite some record, and reconciling one out of every seven divorcing couples is even more of an achievement, but that's what Judaism has done.

Reader's Digest Features Story On New Flour

The April issue of Reader's Digest is carrying a story that should be of interest to every person who eats bread, Phil Kraft, president of the South Side Baking Co., said this week. The article titled: "New Strength for the Staff of Life" tells the romantic story of a new discovery in flour milling that engineers had sought in vain to achieve for more than half a century, he declared, pointing out that his firm's dandy white bread is the only user of the new flour in Indianapolis.

TO HONOR FOUNDERS

The Nathan Morris Kindergarten will observe Founders Day Tuesday afternoon, April 9, in honor of Eliza Blaker, who founded the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten Society, and Nathan Morris, after whom this particular kindergarten was named. Honor guests at this meeting will be all past presidents of the Mothers' Club of the kindergarten. Mrs. David Ross will speak.

Fine Beer Need Not Be Fattening!

Given a 2-ounce bran muffin, or the usual cup of coffee . . . and then an 8-ounce glass of fine beer most people say, "Of course the beer is fattening!" Actually, beer can be brewed to be lower in calories than any of these. So low in fact that an 8-ounce glass contains fewer calories than even a good-sized orange! Such a beer is Sterling . . . an all-grain brew . . . one of America's finest beers. NO sugar, or glucose, or fattening syrups are added. It's news like this that brings keener, added pleasure to enjoyment of beer. Be sure to ask for Sterling.

Warns Against Blame To Religious Group For Bias Spreaders

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK—Dr. Louis Finkelstein, provost of the Jewish Theological Seminary, warns against holding the Catholic and Protestant churches responsible for anti-Semitic groups, in an editorial published in the Rabbinical Assembly Bulletin.

Jews have suffered so much from the tendency to hold a community responsible for the derelictions of a few individuals that they are hardly likely to fall into the same error themselves, Dr. Finkelstein states. "Undoubtedly the leaders of the Catholic Church, as well as the various Protestant denominations, are deeply distressed by these recent developments (of anti-Semitism). Under the circumstances, it is manifestly unfair to make this an occasion for an attack on these great religious organizations.

How Nazi White Book Lays Blame On Jews Shown

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
WASHINGTON—Polish Ambassador Count Jerzy Potocki has denied the authenticity of a document published by the German Government quoting him as having reported to Warsaw on Jan. 12, 1939, that "international Jewry" was influencing President Roosevelt's anti-Fascist stand and seeking U. S. entry into a war.

"The publication by the German Government of pretended documents from the Polish Foreign Office is obviously for propaganda purposes," Count Potocki said. "I deny the allegations attributed to me."

The purported Potocki document, one of a series published in a German White Book last Friday, represented the Polish Ambassador as having said that American opinion was generally against Fascism and particularly opposed to Hitler. The ambassador was quoted as having said that propaganda "is above all in Jewish hands, for they own almost 100 per cent of the radio, films, press and periodicals."

The alleged document declared that influential Jews such as Bernard M. Baruch, Governor Lehman, Justice Felix Frankfurter and Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., who are "close friends" of Roosevelt, wished "that Roosevelt should become a champion of human rights and religious freedom, as well as freedom of speech, and one who in the future would punish those who create disturbances."

"This group of persons, who have the highest positions in the American Government and who like to join themselves to representatives of 'real Americanism' and 'defenders of democracy,' is basically bound with unbreakable bonds to international Jewry," the purported document said. "For those Jewish internationalists, who have the interest of their race above all else to place Roosevelt upon this 'idealistic' post as a defender of human rights was a general chess move."

The objective of all this, according to the document, was to have the United States rearm for the future war "toward which the Jews in full consciousness are striving."

Sponsor of the group is Richard Schneider, student worker.

PEOPLE And PLACES

BY SEYMOUR PINKUS

Tra La La, 'tis lovely Spring,
The fairies dance, the birdies sing.
Buds are budding, bees are beezing,
And for you and I it's time for sneezing.

Naw, don't get regusted chillun, I ain't no crepe hanger, sirree. Why, just think, the time is comin' soon when you can swimmin', play golf, tennis, and best of all, pitch a little low. So, let's start the ball rollin' by all cuddlin' together and dinkin' the dirt, yea, verily.

Jackie Jaffe, a real candid shot expert, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Jaffe, was recently elected unanimously to serve as president of the Camera Club at Shortridge. You see, to see the shot he took not long ago of Dad; it's a lulu. And was it candid! Well, it was.

And while we're passing out the posies, hoo, gobs of them to Bob Rabiner who received last week that he had passed the bar exam. is now a full-fledged lawyer. Bob was one of nineteen to pass from group of fifty-five so it seems that his wife, Mildred, has one small guy for a husbandino.

Say, if you really want to see somepun what is sumpin, take a gander at the B'nai B'rith bowling trophy at Argus and Yaver's men. It's the award given to the team champ by Irv Ruben, and its pretty nifty.

Wuxtra, wuxtra, read all about it, folks! Bernard Cohen is now a proud poppa. His wife gave birth to a jumpin', thumpin', bouncin' baby boy this week and I already got my cigar.

Joe Schwartz and the Missus, Bernice, are quite a-twitter these days. Joe bought a Ford coupe with a radio, heater, and all the trimmings and it sure is swell-elegant. If I could have known you wanted a car, Joe, I'd have sold you mine for only 50 cents down and two-bits a week.

Remember the Purim Ball in the dim, dim past; that is, two weeks ago? Well, Norm Weisman told me a good one in connection with and I take him at his word for it being de whole true and nudding de true. You see, Norm was supposedly shot in one of the skits and when the finale was presented he failed to put in an appearance as he was washing up in his office. Next day, Monday, a young lad walked into office and was surprised to see Norm still there. He thought, as he did appear on the stage for the final curtain, that Norm was really pistachio. Oh me, Oh my, what ideas these yonngsters get.

Marion Berger dropped into the Beauty Mart (plug) Saturday to have her hair fixed and it was good to see her up and about after her recent throat operation. Nice going, Marion.

Either a local daily paper made a big mistake recently or else Hannah Leah Miller had the wool pulled over her eyes. Anyway, it seems that in some Purim Ball publicity one paragraph listed the names of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Salam! Hannah Leah was out with him the Sunday before and claimed that if he did get hitched it sure happened mucho pronto. Personally, I think it must have been a typographical error, don't you, Henry?

Well, pipples what goes to all places, don't forget to attend Junior Council dance this weekend, as we'll be looking for you there and in the meantime try and keep us in-mind and drop us some drive for this column. See you at the dance and week after next in The Jewish Post.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dear Seymour, Here's one that is real new an engagement. Both first names begin with the initial "J," although one is a nickname. Figure it out for yourself; it's easy. I wouldn't tell you about it, except that they are already arranging the wedding so that it couldn't still be a secret, could it?

Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's envoy to the Vatican, is taking a hand in negotiations now being conducted in Rome looking toward establishment of a temporary asylum for Polish and German refugees on a Greek island, it was reliably reported in Paris.

A decision to empty Italy of Jews within 11 years has been taken by the Italian Government, it was reliably learned. This is a reversal of the recent attitude regarding Jewish emigration from Italy. Up to now passports for emigration purposes have been most difficult to obtain. Only six weeks ago all passports held by Italian Jews were called in.

Plan to Erect Monument To Jewish Chiropodist Opposed by Jewish Advocate of Boston.—We can't arouse any enthusiasm for the latest proposal, news of which has just reached our desk: the plan to erect a monument to Abraham Lincoln's chiropodist, a Dr. Isachar Zacharie, a Jewish foot-doctor whose relationship with the Great Emancipator was described in a recent issue of the B'nai B'rith National Jewish Monthly. A publicity release from the magazine now indicates that chiropodists have launched a movement to honor the memory of Dr. Zacharie with a suitable statue.

It is not very difficult to think of many much more suitable subjects for memorialization in American Jewish history than a Jewish foot doctor who treated a President. Despite all the publicity given Haym Salomon, who helped finance the American revolution, there is as yet no suitable national memorial to his memory, though a group in Chicago has erected a patriotic monument there in which Salomon is one of the figures. We have yet to hear of a monument being erected in honor of the Jewish pioneers with Columbus, in honor of the Gershon M. Seixas, Patriot Jewish Minister of the Revolution, in honor of Mordecai Manuel Noah, one of the truly great American Jews of a hundred years ago, in honor of Dr. David Camden De Leon, hero of the Mexican war, in honor of Judah P. Benjamin, U. S. Senator from Louisiana, and one of the heroes of the Southern Confederacy, in honor of Commodore Uriah P. Levy, who abolished corporal punishment in the navy, in honor of Emma Lazarus, American Jewish poetess (though it may be said that the Statue of Liberty, on which her sonnet is engraved, is her monument), in honor of members of the Straus family, many members of which served with distinction in the United States diplomatic service, in a President's Cabinet, and in civic and philanthropic circles; indeed, in honor of any one of scores of Jews who have contributed in large measure to the welfare of this country and have reflected glory on their people.

The move to erect a statue to the memory of Lincoln's chiropodist strikes us as being ridiculous and wholly unnecessary.

Italy Ousts Jews And Reopens Kosher Kitchens On Ships

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
ZURICH—Despite its anti-Semitic legislation, the Italian Government is making a special bid for Jewish patronage of its steamers by reviving kosher service on some of them, it was learned here.

Swiss Jews were notified of the development by the Italian authorities through Swiss Jewish newspapers, which reported that kosher kitchens have been reopened on the liners Rex, Conte di Savoia, Saturnia, and Vulcania. American rabbis are reportedly supervising the kosher kitchens, the Italian authorities listing their assignments as follows: Erich Rasch, the Rex; Abraham Burg, Conte di Savoia; Max Green, Saturnia, and Morris Gottlieb, Vulcania.

Won't Renew Licenses

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
ROME—The Italian Commerce Association has issued "instructions" announcing that Jews will be denied renewal of licenses for office stands and tobacco shops at the end of the current year. This means, in most cases, the total loss of the Jews' businesses since they cannot sell their licenses to their "Aryan" successors, despite the fact that they invested in the development of their shops.

Jews Win Suit

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
SALONICA, Greece—A court in Kavalla has ordered the Italian Lloyd Adriatica steamship line to pay 420,000 drachmas compensation to a Jewish employee in Greece who was dismissed under Italy's anti-Semitic legislation after 38 years' service. The court ruled that the "Greek constitution and legislation do not permit any racial or religious discrimination."

A great bronze candelabrum, the work of Benno Elkan, noted German Jewish sculptor, presented to Westminster Abbey by an anonymous donor, was dedicated by the Dean of Westminster, this week. It contains 32 Old Testament figures and required ten years to complete.

Runs For Legislature

MAX PLESSNER

Former J. E. A. Head To Run For Office

Former president of the Jewish Education Association, Max M. Plessner, this week announced his candidacy for the State legislature, subject to action of the Republican primary.

Mr. Plessner, who has been a member of Beth El's board of directors for sixteen years, has been active in the communal life of the city. He is an honorary president of the Beth El Men's Club, a Past Chancellor of the K. of P., and a Mason. He is married, has one son, and lives at 720 E. 48th St.

Fascists, during the night, smeared the following inscription, in letters a yard high, on walls of the Gildersome Jewish cemetery in Leeds, England: "All Jews, all dead, thank God!" Underneath was the signature "P. G.," meaning "Perish Judah."

Shaw Play Set For Civic Theatre

"The Gentle People" by Irwin Shaw will be produced by the Indianapolis Civic Theater April 12 to 17 at its Playhouse, 1847 N. Alabama street. In his foreword Mr. Shaw calls his play a "fairy tale with a moral." The playwright states the case of the gentle souls of the world, who in their wishful thinking imagine themselves vanquishing those who oppress them.

THREE IN FINALS

The Kirshbaum Center Ping Pong tournament is nearing its final stage with three matches remaining to be played. Harold Rapaport, Robert Parrett, and Bob Mack survive as players. Entrants for the following events in the Inter-Community House Table Tennis Tournament are asked to register in the game room of Kirshbaum Community Center before April 16: girls' singles, girls' doubles, boys' singles, boys' doubles, men's doubles.

Between You and Me—

by PAUL A. PETERS

Within a very short time there will be a brand new job open at the ZOA... The job of executive director... There's plenty of speculation in Zionist circles as to who will fill it... All Zionist offices, by the way, will have moved to new quarters from 111 Fifth Avenue by May 1... They'll be housed in the Liggett Building on Forty-second street and Madison avenue.

FARMER

Among the year's most interesting visitors to these shores is Moshe Smilansky, president of the Palestine Jewish Farmers' Federation... Short and stocky, with a wrinkled sun-scorched face, he is a splendid example of a farmer-with-a-brain... JNF prexy Israel Goldstein, intruding him at a press luncheon the other day, was alliteratively lyrical... Describing him as a Prince of the Pen and the Plow, and a Son of the Soil and the Soul... Also terming him a "fellow-journalist" of the assembled reporters, Goldstein wondered whether the reporters might not by the same token consider themselves fellow farmers of Smilansky... To which Publicity Director William Zev Spiegelman piped up: "Why not, mir alle ligen in drerd!"

HOLAR

An impeccable source informs us that Prof. Enrico Fermi, Nobel Prize physicist whose wife is Jewish, has submitted his resignation to the Royal Academy of Science, highest scientific body in Italy... Fermi, who some time ago denied he had left Italy because of racial reasons, will also deny that Italy's racial legislation had anything to do with his resignation... In his letter, Fermi told the Academy that he was so taken up with other matters that he no longer had time to devote to affairs of the Academy, appointment to which is for life... The Academy has refused to accept his resignation... Fermi is now on the faculty of Columbia U.

VENTION

Three Jewish doctors of the Mt. Sinai Hospital staff have discovered a drug that will cure diffuse scleroderma, disease that hardens skin and destroys the smile, making the human face an expressionless mask... Now all the doctors need do is discover something for people, particularly Jews, to smile about.

SH-MASH

Dr. Ezekial Sacheroff, Palestine-born secretary of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, is making a social hit in New York... Otto L. Preminger, refugee-actor director who is the toast of Broadway, should be congratulated on the directing job he is doing with "My Dear Children," that bit of fluff and nonsense which serves as a backdrop for some horseplay by a grand old actor named John Barrymore... Preminger is the chap who acts the German Consul and also does the directing in that anti-Nazi hit, "Margin for Error"... Weizmann's Palestinian bodyguard is visiting here... So is the young daughter of Meer Grossman, Jewish State Party leader in Palestine... Prof. S. Fubini, well-known Italian Jewish mathematician, is now on the faculty of Princeton... The loser being some University for reasons best known to that man Mussolini... Abraham Goldberg, the Zionist leader, and Dr. Trude Weiss Rosmarin are among the first authors being published by the Jewish Book Club of New York in its series of popular-priced books to be known as the "Jewish People's Library." Dr. Rosmarin's book, the first of the series, is "Jewish Women Through the Ages"... Goldberg is compiling an anthology on "Eretz Israel in Hebrew literature"... Wonder how Senator Robert R. Reynolds, the big bad wolf of the aliens, likes being taken up in a big way byoughlin's Social Justice... Albert Basserman, refugee actor who scored a tremendous hit in "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet," has been signed for a prominent role in the forthcoming Warner film, "Personal History," the Vincent Sheean book... His wife, Else, will also appear in the film, marking the first time they have acted together in more than thirty years.

500,000 Pounds of Matzoh To Be Sent Into German Territory By J. D. C.

Jewish Telegraphic Agency
PARIS.—The Joint Distribution Committee plans to purchase approximately 1,500,000 pounds of matzoh in Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia for shipment to Jews in German territory... permission to send the unleavened bread into Nazi Poland as relief supplies, exempt from duty with free transportation without Poland guaranteed by the Nazis, been obtained by the American Cross in Geneva. The Nazi authorities in the protectorate also permitted the Prague Jewish community to import 44,000 pounds of matzoh, which will be sent in from Yugoslavia... Jews in Germany and Poland the J. D. C. intends to purchase 770,000 pounds in Hungary and 660,000 pounds in Rumania. The Rumanian authorities have already given permission for the export, on condition payment be made in American currency. The Hungarian authorities have so far refused an export license, but B. Jacobson, representative of the J. D. C., now in Budapest, has secured the intervention of the American Legation there, and it is believed permission will be forthcoming.

Party For Newcomers

A group of young people including Harry Carsch, Ruth Paul, Fred Sondermann and Warner Heineman will have prominent places on the program at the next social for newcomers of the community to be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, April 6, at Kirshbaum Center. These get-togethers honoring the immigrants who have made their homes in Indianapolis have been held monthly during the past winter and have been made possible through the cooperation of the Jewish Community Center Association, the Americanization Committees of B'nai B'rith and the National Council of Jewish Women, and the Indiana Coordinating Committee.

The Editor's Chair:

Our editorial on "A Minimum Jew," which originally appeared in our issue of Dec. 22, is still making the rounds. On March 8, it "made" the editorial page of The American Jewish Outlook of Pittsburgh, and then last week, The Reconstructionist reprinted it.

Since the editorial has been reprinted about as often as any other editorial appearing in an Anglo-Jewish paper recently, we thought we'd join in the movement and reprint it ourselves. We are accepting the abbreviated form as it appeared in The Reconstructionist, to save space, with the caustic comment of that publication below.

The Jewish Post of Indianapolis lists "the minimum characteristics without which an individual could hardly be expected to be included as a 'good Jew': (a) Attends at least one Friday night service per month in addition to all important holiday services; (b) Is a member of a synagogue and at least one other Jewish organization, such as the B'nai B'rith, his Jewish community center, Zionist district, etc.; (c) Gives at least as much as one week's income to his annual united Jewish campaign; (d) Sends his children to Hebrew school perhaps, but certainly to Sunday school; (e) Subscribes to at least one Jewish publication. Other questions include observance of Kashrut, allegiance to Zionism, knowledge of Jewish history, but to add these would make the 'good Jew' group as small as the total number of legendary 'tzaddikim.'"

Question: Do you have to attend services in the summer, too, or just during the winter nights when it is not snowing? Can one just join this "one other" organization, or does one have to attend meetings; and, further, will any organization do, such as a Men's Club which plays pinocle every two weeks? Is the word "perhaps" in section (d) to be taken as a sort of apology to all the "good" Jews who object to the serious study of Hebrew? May one subscribe to just any magazine, or must it be The Reconstructionist? And, oh yes, does one have to read it too?

A Mother And Her Sons

THE picture that is worth 10,000 words was printed on the front page of last week's Jewish Post. If you recall, a mother and her two sons were shown pushing through a crowd around a breadline, each carrying a prized loaf of bread. Above are reprinted the faces of the three persons, the mother in the center and her two sons, one on each side. Hold the picture away from you, and the stark emotion so vividly portrayed on the faces becomes clearer.

Notice the fear and disbelief in the eyes of the larger son, the one with the beret. The mother's face shows a pitiful satisfaction, and perhaps a trace of shyness that the loaves of bread should mean so much to her little family, and that too, in public; and the smaller son betrays, bewilderment; he is confused and close to tears.

Can you visualize yourself getting so aroused over a loaf of bread? Can you picture yourself in such a situation that a loaf of bread would mean so much to you? Probably not. None of us here, not even the most sympathetic Jew in Indiana, feels what is actually happening to Polish and German Jews. Perhaps it is better that way.

Obituaries Premature

THOSE anglo-Jewish publications which a few short years ago were condescendingly predicting the early demise of the Yiddish Press in the United States will have to postpone their obituaries for the time being. Whereas ten years ago, with immigration practically stopped, and with the younger generation no longer growing up in homes where Yiddish was spoken almost all the time today the situation is radically different. Not only has the influx of refugees from Germany and Central Europe created a vast field of potential subscribers for the Yiddish Press, but the Yiddish Press is doing such a superior job of journalism in comparison with the Anglo-Jewish Press, that it almost behooves Jews who wish to be informed on current happenings to learn to read Yiddish.

No Anglo-Jewish newspaper, not even the largest and most affluent, has any correspondent in Europe, or for that matter in Palestine, or for that matter in the nation's capital, Washington, D. C. Of course, there is the Jewish Telegraphic Agency which most Anglo-Jewish papers purchase, but what large newspaper depends entirely on one news service.

The Yiddish Press on the other hand has done a particularly effective job in coverage of news events of the past few months. In fact, the reporting in such papers as The Forwards, and The Jewish Morning Journal, can be classed with some of the best work done by correspondents for our large metropolitan dailies.

The Yiddish Press may some day actually lay itself down and announce its passing, but before that time many another publication will, because of lack of reader interest or lack of support or both, have long been consigned to the limbo of dead newspapers.

Current Comment

How Mobilizers Treat Others' Views, American Jewish Outlook Shows—In a recent issue of The Commonweal, Mr. Lawrence Phelan, writer and business man, contributes an article "An Evening With The Mobilizers" in which he describes a debate between a Mobilizer and a member of a "Tolerance Group." The article will appeal to all who love a good debate because this one violated every principle of fairness and every rule of debating. It will also make uncomfortable those who maintain that it is possible to appeal to an audience's sense of fair play.

In an auditorium fairly covered with signs and placards advocating intolerance, the "impartial" chairman of the evening arose, and said that "he had the distinct pleasure to present Mr. Henry McDonough of the tolerance group." This was greeted with laughter and from the crowd and scattered boos. He went on to say that he thought the speaker sincere. A woman shouted, "He's a Jew stooge." The chairman continued, "We all know he's wrong. . . . But we want you to give him a good reception and to refrain from any outbursts. I know this will be difficult. I know how you feel about it; I feel the same way. But please refrain from causing any disturbance."

"He spoke," Mr. Phelan tells us, "under as great a handicap as I have ever seen a man speak, for about ten minutes." Every thing he said was greeted with boos and shouted denials. Another curious thing that Mr. Phelan noted was that the heckling was done entirely by women. Maybe Franco "has a way" with this class of women who join the Christian Mobilizers!

The speaker then reminded his Christian Mobilizers that Christ was a Jew. This was the signal for an uproar. The women shouted, "He was not."

miles of land of great diversification. There are hills and valleys, pasture lands, virgin soils, forests of various fruits and wild nuts.

A great deal has already been accomplished in road building. Excellent material for road building, such as is easily crushable from corroded rock formations, is accessible everywhere. The whole tract skirts the Atlantic Ocean, which is to the north, and is bathed by refreshing winds.

Traversing at right angles across the estate for about ten miles, you pass pasture lands; lands which are amenable to the cultivation of many products from sugar, bananas, and coffee to vegetable garden products, tomatoes, beans, peas, etc.

There are already 70 cows at the settlement to ensure that dairy products will be available to the first settlers. There are impounded fields for experimentation with various seeds, there are places primeval on the foot hills with sweet almond trees, guayaba fruit trees, etc.

The Sosua Settlement is ready for the accommodation of about 200 settlers and shows unmistakable evidence that it will rapidly be made available for many more.

When one sees it he gets some idea of the magnitude of the present that Trujillo has made towards the future life of refugees.
